The Morse is a 299 seat state-of-the-art small concert venue located on the far north side of Chicago, two blocks from beautiful Lake Michigan. The venue includes a 48 track digital live audio recording environment, and is video sound stage and webcast / broadcast capable. Designed to meet the high audio standards required for the proper presentation of acoustic oriented music, the Morse Theatre development team placed the performing artist and the concert audience foremost in our considerations. The Morse is a unique and exceptional listening room, combining the intimacy and ambiance of a classic nightclub with the focus of a modern concert venue. The Century Public House is a traditional American dining room located adjacent to the theater.
